Bright Spots in November: A Writing Workshop Registration

The Schoharie River Center is excited to present Bright Spots in November: A Writing Workshop. This is a writing workshop for anyone aged 8 and older.

Join writer and naturalist Mary Cuffe Perez for a walk along the nature trail of the Schoharie River Center. Some people describe November as the drabest month, but we'll discover how wrong they are! Nature has its own beauty and language to discover using your senses and imagination. After the walk, we'll gather at the Center to write about what bright spots you found in your November walk. This could be the start of your own nature journal of seasons!

November 3, 2018 from 10am to 12:30pm at the Schoharie River Center - 2025 Burtonville Rd. Esperance, NY. Cost is just $10.00 per person.
